Purpose
The goal of the Graeme Bell Travel Award (GBTA) is to enrich and enhance the undergraduate research experience at the University of Calgary. The GBT Award provides financial support to PURE student researchers interested in travelling to conferences or symposiums to share their PURE summer research findings. The GBT Award is open to undergraduate students that have completed an 8, 12 or 16 week Program for Undergraduate Research Experience (PURE) award in the academic year.

Value
PURE students can apply for a maximum of 1 out of 4 available GBTAs, each in the amount of $1,350. GBTA recipients will be paid directly by the Student Awards Office as a one-time payment. Payments can be requested in advance of travel to cover travel expenses. The award payment is intended to cover student travel expenses.

Eligibility
To be eligible to apply for a GBTA, students must:
- Be a student in good academic standing
- Be currently enrolled as a full-time undergraduate student at the University of Calgary
- Have completed a PURE research project in spring/summer 2021;
- Have submitted a complete GBTA application form;
- Be presenting your PURE research at a conference or symposium; and
- Must attend or have attended the conference or symposium between May 1, 2021 and April 30, 2022 and within six months of the date of application

Criteria for Award Allocation
In determining who will receive awards, the committee will consider the need for funds, clarity of statements explaining of how the experience will enhance the program outcomes of PURE, the number of applications, event type, and the nature of participation. In general, conference presentations will be given higher priority over poster presentations. The committee may also prioritize upper-level students, first-time conference attendees, and equity-deserving groups.

Final award decisions are communicated to applicants and the Award Services Office. In conjunction with the Registrar’s office, the Award Services Office will allocate student award amounts directly.
